

NEW BRUNSWICK COLLEGE OF CRAFT & DESIGN

Vacancy Notice Fall 2023 — Individual Course Appointments

The New Brunswick College of Craft & Design (NBCCD) is seeking part-time instructors to fill course vacancies for the Fall 2023 semester. Individuals who feel they are equipped to teach post-secondary courses in art, craft, and design are encouraged to submit an application to maegen.black@gnb.ca. Applicants should include a current curriculum vitae and sample of portfolio images and/or videos.

Application Deadline: June 16, 2023

(Review of applications will begin immediately upon submission)

Direct Applications to: Maegen Black, maegen.black@gnb.ca
Associate Dean
New Brunswick College of Craft and Design
457 Queen Street, Fredericton NB

The New Brunswick College of Craft & Design is a learner-centered cultural community, providing an excellent foundation for professional practice and personal development and fostering creative enterprise and applied learning in the art of craft and design. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens, permanent residents, and valid work-permit holders will be given priority. We welcome applications from practicing artists with educational backgrounds in a variety of disciplines and lived experiences. Diversity is our strength. Hiring will be in accordance with NBCCD's policy on non-discrimination. For more information, please visit nbccd.ca.

NBCCD is committed to an equitable, diverse, and inclusive workplace, offering an environment that celebrates the value of diverse cultural and racial backgrounds, beliefs, disabilities, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, marital and family status, and age. We are committed to reflecting this diversity on campus. We also acknowledge the historic inequities in our systems, and look to move beyond and remove barriers that exist.